

COSTA DORADA

The Costa Dorada covers the area between the Southern part of the Costa Brava up to Tarragona, offering marvellous beaches, amazing landscapes, beautiful towns on the Mediterranean coast.

In the North, it borders with France, in the South with Valencia and in the West with Aragon. This place offers beautiful landscapes and sights: mountains, hills covered by olive and almond trees, unlimited beaches. Thanks to the sun shining almost all year long, and to the plentiful water in rivers and lakes, nature blooms – flourishing and unique

The Costa Dorada offers all the most modern and innovative tourism services and facilities as well as efficient modern communication access, all against a quiet and authentic backdrop. The Costa Dorada is the perfect destination. It can be easily reached by plane in two hours from any part of Europe (flights are scheduled by the main companies and by many low-cost companies), by car or by train.

The delicate but brilliant colour of gold, typical of the light reflecting into the crystalline water of the sea has given the name to this coast: Costa Dorada, that is Golden Coast. Unlimited and wide fine sand beaches stretch along its coast, from l'Ametlla de Mar, in the North, to Les Cases d'Alcanar, in the South. Here and there you can find beaches like real deserts of dunes, creeks with unbelievable cliffs, hills and mountains that, in the frame of the Ebro Delta, provide amazing and incomparable scenarios. The fantastic landscapes with their natural variety are a feature of the Costa Dorada. From sweeping coasts and stone creeks... .. surrounded by the magnificent olive and almond trees of l'Ametlla de Mar and l'Ampolla... .. to the infinite beaches of fine golden sand and crystalline water of the Natural Park..... .. a perfect place for holidays or permanent living.
